

VIRTUAL APPRENTICESHIP SESSIONS FOR TEACHERS AND PARENTS 19TH NOVEMBER

We're bringing virtual apprenticeship sessions to YOU!

On 19th November at 6:30pm, we're hosting two sessions specifically aimed at parents and school staff to give them all the information they need to fully understand the apprenticeship pathway. And, thanks to the ASK Project, the sessions are free to attend. Both sessions will be delivered by one of our expert speakers, and because we're delivering on behalf of the National Apprenticeship Service, the sessions will be impartial and unbiased.

For parents

The session will aim to break down myths and challenge misconceptions about the apprenticeship pathway. We'll give a complete overview on what the apprenticeship pathway now entails, the levels of apprenticeships available, and how to best support their children through the application process. Plus, there'll be the opportunity to ask our expert presenter questions.

For school staff

The upskilling session for school staff session will give teachers, careers staff, teaching assistants, and other school staff the knowledge to be able to assist students through their apprenticeship journey. Taking it back to basics, we'll give an overview of the makeup of apprenticeships and go right the way through to how to apply. The goal is for school staff to leave the session feeling confident about being able to tackle questions they may get about apprenticeships, as well as give them the ability inform their own students about the apprenticeship pathway.

Places are limited for both the parent and school staff sessions, so sign up quickly to avoid disappointment!

Further dates will be released if sign up is popular. Sign up is via Eventbrite and a link to the session will be sent out by the presenter prior to the session starting. Sessions will be delivered over Zoom or Teams, but our team will give enough time for you to set up.

Other ASK sessions are still available to book for the rest of the academic year. You can contact Jenny on jenny.savory@gmfi.co.uk or 02393 876398 to book.
